Goals for this meeting

SZ4D

- Share subduction zone science, networking with other subduction zone scientists
- Inform the community about SZ4D efforts so far
- Community feedback on how to move forward building SZ4D

We have come a long way, but we have a lot of work to do to move SZ4D forward!

SZ4D needs wide range of expertise and a wide-range of coordinated and integrated scientific studies

SZ4D Code of Conduct

SZ4D

EXPECTED BEHAVIOR
- Treat all participants with respect, valuing a diversity of views and opinions.
- Be considerate, respectful, and collaborative.
- Acknowledge the contributions of others.
- Contribute to an accessible and inclusive environment for all participants.
- Do not make audio/visual recordings of presentations unless permission is specifically approved

UNACCEPTABLE BEHAVIOR in all environments includes but is not limited to:
- Physical or verbal abuse by anyone to anyone, including bullying, harassment, intimidation, or discrimination in any form.
- Sexual attention or advances, or inappropriate sexual references.
- Other conduct which could reasonably be considered inappropriate in a professional setting.

CONSEQUENCES
- Anyone requested to stop unacceptable behavior is expected to comply immediately.
- SZ4D meeting organizers or security/local police may take action deemed necessary and appropriate, including:
  - Immediate removal from the event,
  - Prohibiting attendance at a future event, online gathering, conference, workshop or field project.
  - Sending notification to a Home Institution, the National Science Foundation and any other funding organization supporting the particular activity.

SZ4D Code of Conduct

REPORTING UNACCEPTABLE BEHAVIOR

- Bystander intervention is encouraged. If someone is acting against our Code of Conduct, address it as directly as you can and report as necessary. For more information see: Take Steps to Prevent Harassment (https://www.nsf.gov/od/oecr/promising_practices/prevent_harassment.jsp)

- Reports of any potential violation of the Code of Conduct can be made to the SZ4D Program Manager or the co-Chairs of the Building Equity and Capacity in Geosciences IG and will be routed to authorities as appropriate including legal authorities, home universities, and relevant funding organizations, including the National Science Foundation.
